

Product Name :
Drilling tool dynamometer

Product Code :
Theory of Machine0014

Description :

Drilling tool dynamometer

Technical Specification :

Our clients can avail from us, a wide range of Drill Tool Dynamometers that are used for measurement of both the thrust force of the control and the torque, which is produced on the work piece. In addition to this, these are also used to establish study tool configuration, drilling force and lubricant characteristics. For attaching the fixture or vise on the top and bottom flanges, our products can be directly bolted as slots. Moreover, these are available in complete sealed construction to suit different application requirements.

Drill tool dynamometer is available in the following model

600A
600B
600C
